

Militant and assertive district conference of EKYSY.

The district conference of EKYSY was held with fighting spirit and assertiveness today, Tuesday 18 February, in Nicosia, highlighting the key issues that concern pensioners. Within the framework of the conference, the participants proceeded to a symbolic protest, demanding the abolition of the 12% penalty on pensions for those who choose to retire at the age of 63, the adoption of immediate measures to address the high prices that particularly affect pensioners, their support for the cost of purchasing medicines not covered by the General Health System, and improving legislation to grant widows' pensions to all male widowers.

The main speaker at the Conference was the Secretary General of EKYSY, Costas Skarparis, while the District Secretary of PEO Nicosia and member of the Secretariat of EKYSY, Eftichios Papamichael, addressed a greeting.

The pensioners demand an immediate meeting with the President of the Republic to discuss the issues that concern them.
